Women's Institute Convention Held

A goodly number of Raymond ladies, members of the local Women's Institute, journeyed to Milk River on Tuesday for a District Convention, where they took part on the program, and some of them were elected Constituency officials for the ensuing term.

Mrs. A. W. Kirkham was chosen Constituency Convenor for the next two years, Mrs. C. D. Compton was made Chairman of Canadian Industries, and Mrs. Milford Allred was made Chairman of Agriculture for the Constituency organization.

Others present besides the three above named were: Mesdames F. W. Leavitt, Frank R. Hall, Thos Allen, Jas Fisher, Jos. Kirkham, J. Miller, Warren W. Depew, Sr., H. Myron Holmes, C. O. Nalder, E. E. Reithman J. Lattman, and Miss Jessie Miller.

A very enoyable program at night concluded the day's meetings, and a number featuring Canada and the people of other nations coming to her, was the outstanding number, when different nations were represented by immigrants who took part in their native tongue, and then a tableau showed the group together under the Canadian colors. Mesdames Lattman and Reithman took part by contributing numbers to this section of the programme.

Beet Bonus Paid

Another payment of bonus money on 1932 beets was put into the mails over the week-end, amounting to $38,000, or an aditionaal 25c. per ton on all beets delivered last year. This makes the amount paid to date $5.60 per ton, the initial guaranteed payment being $5.00 per ton, and two bonuses now, of 35c. and 25c. per ton.

This money will come in very handy at this particular time of year as there are always incidentals during harvest and threshing that necessitate expenditure, and this payment will help tide over to the beet harvest proper.

Town Water Reported Pure

A report has just been received from Edmonton on an analysis of the Town Water supply, which states that it is free from dangerous contamination as far as human consumption is concerned.

Raymond has been a great deal more fortunate in this respect than many other towns in the province during this season, as many have had to boil all water used for drinking and cooking, other towns have been obliged to chlorinate the water to such an extent that about all the taste there was, was of the chlorine, and all the while we have water that tested alright for human consumption, and we have been able to enjoy clear, cold, sparkling water all summer long.

To His Worship, the Mayor,

Town of Raymond,
Raymond, Alberta.

Gentlemen:—

Our Main Street is one of which we may be proud. It will stand comparison with that of any small town. The street is wide and in that way is unique. For that reason, I would like to submit what is possibly a startling suggestion.

That we change the street's name. "Broadway" as a title is descriptive, but there are hundreds of "Broadways" throughout the country. May I suggest "42nd Street" as a new name. While there may be criticism of such a name I think you will agree the words symbolize life, action and business. It is easily remembered too. New York's "42nd Street" is now considered the main thoroughfare of that city.

I would like to have your comment.

Sincerely,
LEE BREWERTON.

Local Crop Report

The weather has been cloudy and cool all this week, and the drought is broken for the present at least. Commencing with a light rain Saturday night and the early hours of Sunday morning, a heavy storm that lasted for about two hours fell over the district Sunday, bringing ½ inch of rain to the dry and parched ground. This was followed by cloudy and cool weather Monday and Tuesday, and Wednesday afternoon a storm blew in from the north, and rain fell steadily all night Wednesday and Thursday forenoon, and up to the time we went to press there was no sign of a let up. Too late to help grain it will be a Godsend in the matter of fall and winter pasture if we get a sunny September to start the grass growing nicely.

Threshing was getting nicely under way last week-end, and the grain delivered to the local elevators was beautiful grain according to the reports of the local buyers. Kernels nice and plump, and despite the dry weather the grain weighing from 61 to 65 lbs, per bushel, and all grading No. 1, and some No. 1 hard. This storm will hold up threshing until the middle of next week, unless we have a drying wind following it.

Beets are doing nicely and this storm will help prepare them for the harvest. Sampling is due to start on September 5th, and digging about ten days later, and the mill will commence about September 20th.

L. D. S. Quarterly Conference Convenes

The Quarterly Conference of the Taylor Stake of Zion was held Saturday and Sunday last, with special sessions during both days, and also on Monday afternoon and evening for Mutual workers of the Wards and Stake. Present from Salt Lake City, were Elder W. O. Robinson, Field Secretary and Board member of the M.I.A., John D Giles, Board member of the M. I.A. and Field Secretary of the Presiding Bishoprie in the Correlation Work, Sisters Ethel J. Anderson and Marie C. Thomas Board members of the Y.L.M.I. A. and Sister Mattie C. Bradford of the General Board of the Relief Societies.

The activity work of the Mutuals and the work of the Relief Societies was gone into pretty thoroughly in the series of the meetings that were held, and the general sessions were some times small in number because of the ones who were taking part in the department work in both organizations. This is the largest number of board members present at a Conference for a long time, and the visitors as well as the local officers were anxious to get the most possible out of the time that was spent here.

SATURDAY EVENING

The Mutual officers had charge of a short general session Saturday night and Elder W. O. Robinson was the first speaker. He stated that there were two things to do in any program; 1st Know something about it; 2nd Get to work and do something at it. This was the purpose of the Convention Conference, to acquaint M. I. A. officials with the progam and show them how to wok effectively at it. This was the first time in more than ten years that so many members of the General Board had been present at a Conference.

Bishop Walker spoke on 'How the M.I.A. helps me care for the leisure time of my people,' and "Monthly Auxiliary Meeting and its Benefits." The Bishop pointed out several aetivities that had been sueeessfully earried out because of the cooperation of the people.

Elder John D. Giles spoke of how the Lord's people, both ancient and modern had done many things, because they had to, and that in the adoption of the Budget Plan outlined by the Church several years ago, some Stakes were doing the same thing. It would be a good plan for all of us to line up behind these suggestions and put them into operation before we were whipped to it. The Budget plan does away with Commercialism in our entertainments, and we can enjoy them without this worry.

Mrs. Anderson expressed her joy at beng privileged to visit these Stakes, encouraged preparation and work now, for the Spring Musical Festival of theMutual and spoke of the first Festival in Salt Lake City and the great success that it was.

Mrs. D. A. Watson contributed a vocal solo to this session. and then the group divided into departments for special work.

SUNDAY MORNING

This meeting was under the direction of the Relief Society, and the new StSake President Mrs. Christian Jensen, of Magrath took charge. The report of the activities of the Stake was read by the Stake Secretary, and Mrs. Margaret Ririe, a Stake Board member spoke on "Dangers on the Horizon." A a means of safeguarding the future of the youth, she suggested a more thorough observance of the Word of Wisdom, and more interest in the encouragement in the making and showing of only the highest tyes of motion pictures, and providing the best reading possible for the boys and girls.

Mrs. Mattie C. Bradford complimented the offieers on the good conditions she found existing in the Stake, and spoke on the topic "Old and New Values" In developing this topic she spoke of the different aspects subjects of the gospel appealed to us, but stated that the values of truth were always the same. Encouraged a greater attendance of the young mothers to Relief Society meetings, because she said, the older sisters need the vim, education and ladership of youth, and the younger mothers need the advice, counsel and exerience of the older ones. Speaking of the changes that modern living has brought to us she said that we do not have the close acquaintance with each other and our neighbors that we used to have but she said, we have a good generation of young people, and we must work together to help them understand life, and by setting the proper examples, try to lead them and not drive them to the truth.

A ladies quintette from the Stirling Ward sang "Lead Thou Me On."

President Allen spoke briefly and complimented the Relief Society on the splendid work they are doing, and related an incident that had come under his observation of the interest outsiders had in our method of caring for the poor. He was sure that if all mothers in the Church would attend Relief Society metings it would help greatly in taking care of our teen age boys. And while, he said, we think we are doing pretty well when we get 30 or 35 per cent of our boys in Church Sundays, we still are losing 2 out of 3, and this phase of the picture is not so good.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Pres. Allen had charge of the Sunday afternoon meeting which opened with the Choir and congregation singing "High on te Mountain Top," followed by prayer by Pres. J. W. Evans. The second number was a Choir anthem "Thou Lamb of God" with Ira McBride, Mrs. Erickson, and Mrs. Allen singing the trio part.

Pres. Allen spoke of the effort of the Church to educate boys and girls, and the benefits that would be ours if we worked for them. Mrs. Thomas expressed her joy at being in Canada, and read a peom "God's Day and Mine."

The Church and Stake authorities were presented and sustained, the Stake Suerintendency of the Y. M. M. I .A being reorganized with Paul Dahl, Supt., Geo. W. Evans 1st and Roy Anderson second assistants, and a number of changes were also made on the Board.

Joe McLean sang a solo, "Draw Near All Ye Mortals" with orchestra accompaniment.

Mrs. Bradford spoke of the Welfare work of the Relief Society, relating instances that she had observed, and stated "We are all too prone to judge a case without a knowledge of the details." Commented the Relief Society on the Handicraft exhibit and urged all to see it before they left.

No Priesthood Meeting Sunday

Because of the Conference and Conventions last week, no Priesthood meeting will be held this coming Sunday. Those interested please take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

Monday and Tuesday next at the Capitol, CAROL LOMBARD in "NO MORE ORCHIDS" and SHCMELLING -- BAER Fight Pictures.

Elder Giles complimented the Stake on the record made with the teen age boy but stated that much could yet be done. 2-3 of the Aaronic Priesthood membership loses the benefits of Church activity and these were the ones we wanted to work on. The boys between 14 and 17, where the greatest loss occurs, were changing in every way, and he plead for a greater understanding of their problems, and the best leadership in the Church we could find for them. 10,000 men and boys in the Church with the Aaronic Preisthood which offered a great mission field.

Another part of his solo "A Song of Praise," was rendered by Jos. McLean.

Mrs. Anderson spoke briefly and said our children were our most precious jewels and told a story and read a poem on this point.

Mrs. Emma Burr sang, "Hea Ye O Isreal."

Elder Robinson spoke of the necessity of leadership in success of any program, and complimented the leadership of this Stake. He referred to the progress of the world, and the great changes that it had brought about, and stated that in future the children of men would live more richly and completely than ever before, because of more leisure, and said the Church was leading out in the teaching of people to enjoy leisure to some profitable end. Learn to play as you would pray, was the parting injunction of Elder Robinson.

The closing song was "O Divine Redeemer" with Mrs. H. F. Allen singing the solo, and Wm. Wilde pronounced the benediction.

SUNDAY EVENING

The M.I.A. had charge of the evening session, and the Mutual Chorus furnished several special numbers, led by W. C. Stone.

Fred Karren of the Magrath 1st Ward read "The Parable of the Talents."

Mrs. A. J. Walton spoke of "Outstanding Women of Our Stake," and mentioned the accomplishments of Mesdames H. S. Allen, T. J. O'Brien, L. C. Alston and L. D. King.

Geo. W. Evans, took H. S. Allen, for the topic of his subject on "Outstanding Men of Our Stake."

Elder Giles spoke on part of the Slogan "The Refining influences of Mormonism," and Mrs. Thomas spoke on "Developing the Gifts Within Us."

Louis Brandley, retiring Superintendent spoke briefly.

Elder Robnson expressed his satisfaction at the work that had been accomplished during the Convention. He spoke also of improving our talents. Cards were presented to Stirling, Raymon 1st an 2nd Wards, and Welling for having 75 p.c of their officers at the Convention, and one was also given the Stake for efficiency in attendance. These cards had the Slogan printed on them.

Big Doings Here Next Thursday

Next Thursday will be a big day for the Taylor Stake, when the people gather to commemorate the 30th Anniversary of the organization of the Stake.

Sports, which are scheduled to commence at 3 p.m. will consist of a horse shoe tournament for the Seventies and High Priests, a Softball Tournament for Elders Quorums, and sports for all ages from 6 to 106.

Luncheon will occupy the time from 6 to 7:30, each person, family or ward to furnish their own lunch.

A program will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 either in the Stake House or the Opera House, and from 9:30 until the wee sma' hours, dancing will oceupy the crowd, at the Opera House and also at the Open Air Pavilion if the crowd is large enough to justify it.

Committees have been arranged for each part of the celebration, and all you have to do is to bring your lunch with you and enjoy the afternoon and evening.

It is likely that the Wednesday afternoon holiday, by Mutual consent, will be changed to Thursday, and if so, the Sugar Factory will have Thursday afternoon instead of Saturday for their holiday, so that every one will be able to join in and make this a real memorable occasion. Don't forget, Thursday next, at 3 p.m.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Huddle had a pleasant surprise on Friday last, when their eldest son, Charles Jr. with his family from Claresholm, paid them a welcome visit on the 50th birthday of their son.

Chas. R. Huddle has given his best years to military service for his country's cause. Both boys of Mr. and Mrs. Huddle volunteered for service in the World War, the youngest son William joined the Navy & served, amidst great hardships on a mino sweep. Charles joined the 50th Batallion at Calgary, and owing to his former training in the Northumberland Fussiliers and York and Lancaster Regiments was made a Sergeant. He was wounded in serviee, and since that time has been forced to spend most of his time in Military Hospitals, and has endured a great deal of suffering. He is in ill health, the results of his wounds, and unable to work, but can get around some, and still get some enjoyment out of life, with his family and friends.—Contributed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Simpson were Lethbridge visitors on Saturday afternoon last.

Vandilism At Cemetery

Some person or persons with little to do, have been upsetting and chipping some of the tombstones at the cemetery, and it is asked that this sort of work be stopped, and that immediately.

It could not be work of cattle or horses, because stones have where stock could not intride, and a pencil was found near one grave, which left pretty good evidence that it was some persons work.

Surely we can let the dead rest in peace, and prevent the necessity of any further or more drastic action being taken, by the loved ones of those whose resting places are thus desecrated.

THE NEW ERA AND LEISURE TIME

For a number of years the [illegible] Improvement Association of the [illegible] Church has busied itself with the planning of activities for leisure time employment. For years this was scoffed at as foolish and unnecessary, because everyone almost argued, and with good reason, that the question of making a living occupied so much of the time of the people that what leisure they had was not sufficient to cause any grave concern. However the Mutuals continued planning and working at a leisure time program that would be upbuilding, that would be educational, that would be attractive, and that would be character building.

Today economists tell us that when the readjustment is made following the present crisis [illegible] that the work of the world will be done [illegible] ence.

The need of supervised recreation is with us, and a crying need, is evidenced by the increase in juvenile crime. [illegible]

Now project your imagination into the future a few years, when not only youth but also middle aged and older people have more leisure than at present, and where will we be without a program for leisure time that will be beneficial and at the same time inviting. Because people read it does not necessarily mean that they are profitably employed. The quality of the material being perused, decides our question. Many people are unable to interest themselves in any reading except the light, sentimental fiction. Anything else is too laborious for them. We are not standing out against fiction. A certain amount of it is alright and relished by most everyone, but when we admit that only that type is interesting, then the danger sign is out and we should take ourselves to task.

And so with everything else in life. And because of these things, the lesiure time program of the Mutuals should appeal to everyone, regardless of religious belief or conviction, who is earnestly seeking to make him or herself better. To gain an appreciation of the beautiful in life, requires acquaintance with it. We will not all be outstanding artists in any particular line, and our abilities to express ourselves may be limited. But through acquaintance, study and personal application we can improve in the directions in which we show ability, and to this end, the Mutuals hold out a program of activities including drama, music, public speaking, story-telling, and other field of personal expression to help all interested to overcome fear, awkwardness, and other natural barriers, and to live life more fully, because of developing the God given gifts within us.

The M.I.A. slogan this year is, "Inspired by the refining influences of Mormonism, we will develop the gifts within us." If we refuse to cultivate a garden, we naturally do not expect any returns from that garden. Reasoning on the same line in respect to life is just as logical. If we do not appreciate, and cultivate the God given gifts within us they will depreciate, and like the Parable of Talents, when the day of reckoning comes, we will be classed with the wicked and unprofitable servant, and be cast into outer darkness.

For our individual improvement and advancement, let us take the opportunity now offered to develop the gifts within us.

SELF GOVERNMENT IN INDUSTRY

With President Roosevelt's approval of the cotton textile industry code, self-government in American industry took a step which may in future be regarded as the beginning of an epoch. It marks the first cooperative effort of a whole industry to establish a standard of wages, working conditions and competitive practices that will embody a sense of social responsibility.

Especial, too, is the fact that under this code child labor is, at one stroke, ruled out of the cotton mills, where it has been a subject of warm discussion for generations. This could be done, as President Roosevelt says, because "this agreement permits employers to do by agreement that which none of them could do singly and live in competition."

A perusal of the executive order which accompanied the approval of the code will show that the National Industrial Recovery Administration under Gen. Hugh Johnson has taken a very practical and plain-spoken attitude in laying down interpretations to prevent evasion of the standards. Experience of labor and management is drawn upon to see that there shall be no mere keeping up of appearances by sly devices.

While the textile agreement places minimum wages at $12 a week in the South and $13 in the North, the Administration adds the stipulation that the existing differentials above this level paid to other workers up to $30 a week shall be maintained. It is made plain that approval of the two minima is not a mark of their "economic sufficiency," but that the subject may be reopened as conditions improve. Another clause prevents use of the "stretch-out system"—making a worker tend more looms or spinning frames—except under the regulation of an administrative agency.

Such safeguards are salutary. And they may well constitute a warning as to what is expected of other industries. In fact the first thing to be expected of other industries is that they shall formulate and submit their codes. The cotton industry has set an example which should be widely and promptly followed.

The nation now looks to the steel companies automobile companies, oil companies and other large employers of labor to join in theprogram. Some have formulated partial codes, looking more to their own interests than to the improvement of buying ability upon which substantial recovery depends. Others have faced forward in genuine cooperation. The line should form quickly—and on the right.— Christian Science Monitor.

ALBERTA CROP REPORT

Number 9, 1933
Issued by Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, Aug. 21

Cutting of the wheat crop in Alberta has commenced, and is fairly general in all parts of the province save in the more morthern districts. Cutting of the coarse grains has also commenced in certain districts. Crops have ripened so rapidly under the continued warm and dry weather, that harvesting has become general somewhat earlier than is usual.

While the Department is not at present issuing an official estimate of what the average yield of wheat over the province is likely to be, it has become certain that the total harvest of wheat will be far below that of 1932. Over a fairly well-defined area in the south-eastern part of the province, described roughly as extending from the South Saskatchewan river north to Township 33 and from Range 15 to the eastern boundary of the province, excluding irrigation areas, the crops have largely failed due to drought, and a very large percentage of the seeded area here will not be harvested, while on the balance the yield will be very light indeed. Over the balance of the province aside from this area, however, there will be a medium crop of wheat with estimates of yields ranging from 10 to 15 bushels in districts immediately adjacent to the drought area both south and north, to as high as 26 bushels in a few favored districts elsewhere in the province. Along the southern fringe of the province west and southwest of Medicine Hat, some fairly good yields are expected. The Peace River and Grande Prairie districts report conditions good, with prospects of good yields, though rain would be welcome in a few sections to aid the filling process.

As might be expected, the drought conditions affected the coarse grains more seriously than the wheat, and in most districts in the central and southern areas there will be a distinct shortage of greenfeed and other feed crops, although as in wheat there are districts in the north central areas more favored in thi srespect. An unusual situation has developed this year in the foothill cattle country between High River and Pincher Creek, where pastures have burned under the prolonged dry, hot spell. Here, as in the dried-out crop areas, the feed situation has become more or less acute. The whole feed situation is now being reviewed by the Department to ascertain what action may be necessary.

Grasshoppers are still doing a little damage even though on the wing, but the percentage of loss from hoppers this season has been held down almost to the minimum, as a result of the intensive poisoning campaign effected during the early part of the growing season.

Crops on irrigated areas are normal. Second cutting of alfalfa at Lethbridge is reported somewhat light. Sugar beets are coming on well, but a somewhat lighter vield than last year is expected.

PRECIPITATION RECORDS

Precipitation records at various points reporting show the preciptation from April 1st to August 16th inclusive to be as follows: Medicine Hat 5.94 in., Empress 4.23, Lethbridge 6.72 Macleod 5.31, Foremost 8.24 Cardston 5.87, Calgary 6.22, Brooks 5.18, Drumheller 3.82, Coronation 6.29, Stettler 6.42, Red Deer 16.45, Vegreville 6.25 Lloydminister 7.60, Edmonton 9.93, Fairview 2.91, Beaverlodge 6.09.

At Lethbridge the ten-year average rainfall for the same period as quoted above was 6.47 inches, at Medicine Hat was 5.78 inches, at Calgary was 10.75 inches, and at Edmonton was 5.54 inches, so that at Lethbridge and Medicine Hat the rainfall was practically normal this year, at Calgary it was below the ten-year average, and at Edmonton was above the average.

Her mother, wishing to teach her the lesson of self-sacrific, said: "Very well, if you would like to go without sugar for a week, I'll give you the money instead and then you will have some." The little one considered seriously for a moment, and then said: "Must it be sugar, mamma" was Elsie's darling; not necessarily. What would you like to do without?" "Soap, mamma," was Elsie's answer.

A clergyman was annoyed by people talking and giggling during the service. He paused, looked at the disturbers, and said: "'Some years since, as I was preaching, a young man who sat before me was constantly laughing, talking and making grimaces. I paused and administered a severe rebuke. After the close of the service a gentleman said to me: 'Sir, you made a great mistake; that young man is an idiot.' Since then I have always been afraid to reprove those who misbehave in chapel lest I should repeat the mistake and reprove another idiot." During the rest of the services there was good order.
